11.02.22

Lynn Neuner, Global Co-Chair of the Firm’s Litigation Department, was named a 2022 “Litigation Trailblazer” by The National Law Journal. Lynn was recognized for her work in ongoing litigation over a Ponzi scheme perpetrated by Allen Stanford—the second-largest Ponzi scheme in history—as well as for wins secured on behalf of clients in insurance coverage litigation and securities class actions, and her longstanding advocacy on behalf of veterans. Looking forward, Lynn told The National Law Journal that she is committed to ensuring the legal profession is welcoming to all: “One of my most important goals is to help develop the next generation of trial lawyers, who will be the most diverse in history,” she said.

The National Law Journal’s “Litigation Trailblazers” series recognizes litigators who have moved the needle in the legal profession. To read the full profile, please click here (subscription required).
