John Terzaken Quoted in Global Competition Review on DOJ's Procurement Collusion Strike Force

12.02.22

John Terzaken, Global Co-Chair of the Firm's Antitrust and Trade Regulation Practice, was quoted in a Global Competition Review article titled, "DOJ's procurement focus showing dividends, practitioners say." The article explored the impact of the DOJ's Procurement Collusion Strike Force three years after its establishment to help stomping out bid-rigging affecting U.S. government contracts. John explained that, while public procurement has historically been an important part of the Antitrust Division's portfolio, "the success story here is they've now institutionalized something that makes this an ongoing priority for the division out in time."
